3 BACKGROUND

- 3.1 The interagency Scottish Borders Adult Protection Committee and the Adult Protection Unit were established in 2005. This is the Tenth Annual Report published, on behalf of the Adult Protection Committee.
- 3.2 The Adult Support & Protection (Scotland) Act 2007 was passed by the Scottish Government in February 2007 and received Royal Assent on 22 March 2007. Part 1 of the Act deals with the protection of adults at risk of harm and was implemented in October 2008. It introduced new measures to protect individuals who fall into the category of 'adults at risk'.

4 ANNUAL REPORT 2014 - 2015

- 4.1 The Annual Report details the range and variety of activity undertaken by the Adult Protection Committee in working together to protect adults at risk in the Scottish Borders, and implement fully the Adult Support & Protection (Scotland) Act 2007.
- 4.2 In order to achieve its objectives, the Adult Protection Committee agreed an Interagency Business Plan for the Protection of Adults at Risk in order to meet the statutory requirements of the Adult Support & Protection (Scotland) Act 2007. There are three subcommittees established in order to help the Adult Protection Committee and the Adult Protection Unit achieve the priorities in the current Interagency Strategy. The current interagency strategy and business plan for 2015 – 2017 is in place.
- 4.3 A review of Adult Protection activity shows an overall increase in protection concerns since 2008. In 2015 – 2016 there were 1556 referrals received where there was an initial report of an adult at risk of harm. Following initial enquiries this progressed to 171 Adult Protection concerns being investigated where it was known or believed that an adult was at risk. 'Adults at risk' are adults who:
- Are unable to safeguard their own well – being, property, rights or other interests
 - Are at risk of harm, and
 - Because they are affected by disability, mental disorder, illness or physical or mental infirmity, are more vulnerable to being harmed than adults who are not so affected.
- For those referrals that did not meet the above criteria, they did not progress to an Adult Protection concern, as defined above, a significant number were signposted to other services for support.
- 4.4 Under the Adult Support & Protection (Scotland) Act 2007, the Council has a duty to inquire and investigate situations where harm is suspected. The majority of inquiries and investigations are managed through the use of supportive interventions without resorting to the use of Protective Orders available via this Act or other appropriate interventions via the Mental Health (Care & Treatment) (Scotland) Act 2003 or the Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000. This is in line with the principles of these Acts and in line with what would be the least restrictive, most beneficial and proportionate response. Most situations are progressed by negotiation and co-operation, and consideration is given to other legal avenues where appropriate. The sharing of appropriate information between partner agencies has ensured that individuals are suitably protected from harm without unnecessary intervention.

- 4.5 The Learning & Development programme adopted by the Scottish Borders delivers a bespoke approach to learning. The rolling programme of standard training sessions is open to all agencies (statutory, independent and third sector) based in the Scottish Borders, and the outcomes are based on the national training programme developed for the Scottish Government. It is acknowledged that it is important for all partners to work together in supporting and protecting adults at risk of harm, and multi-agency training helps to deliver this message to people who may have contact with adults at risk. In 2015-2016, a total of 447 people completed training modules including Social Work, Health Care, Police, staff in the Voluntary Sector and Independent Sector.
- 4.6 Activity – Financial and physical harm continue to be the most prominent types of harm in the Scottish Borders. Work with trading standards last year to tackle financial harm and scams has seen a positive impact on adult protection referrals, particularly in the age range 65 – 79 years of age, as figures are down by a third. Most cases of physical harm happen in the adults own home usually by someone known to them. Reports of physical harm and neglect are also reported in private care home settings. Scottish Borders investigate all incidents of harm in these settings and have now delivered bespoke adult protection training into all 22 care homes within the Scottish Borders. Within the under 65 year age range, social media and smart phone technology is particularly impacting on relationships. Many adults are introduced to a wider group of friends / acquaintances through this technology. However this technology can also be used in some situations, to target and harm our most vulnerable adults.
- 4.7 Priorities for 2016 – 2017
- There are a number of priorities for the Adult Protection Committee:
- (a) Financial harm - Progress has been made in this area. A recent financial harm event was very well attended by professionals and speakers included trading standards, banking and the office of the public guardian. This area continues to feature prominently in the Scottish Borders and further work is planned through local media campaigns and smart boards throughout Scottish Borders.
 - (b) Client and Carer feedback - Scottish Borders has made progress in securing client and carer feedback and is using this to better inform, service delivery. Scottish Borders are keen to see further improvement by introducing outcome focused risk assessments and protection plans which keep the service user at the heart of the process.
 - (c) The 2015 – 2017 Adult Protection Committee Business plan covers 16 areas of Adult Protection overview is coming to an end. There is a self-evaluation event organised for June 2017 and this will inform the next Interagency Business plan from 2017 onwards.
