Representatives from Interest Link were in attendance and advised that the majority of the funding required was from external sources. Interest Link provided a non-statutory service providing social and leisure activities and personal development projects. The Chairman, Councillor Turnbull, informed that Interest Link should apply in the first instance to the Community Grant Fund. He also advised that Councillor Smith had suggested the R B Foreman's Bequest Fund might also be appropriate, as this fund was for the advancement of health. The Chairman requested that the Senior Financial Analyst investigated both options on behalf of Interest Link, and advise accordingly. If neither Fund was appropriate, a special meeting of Hawick Common Good Fund Sub-Committee would be reconvened to reconsider the application.

DECISION

The selling price of the book would be £10.00 per copy, printing costs would be £7.00 plus setting up costs. Copies of the book would be donated to schools and libraries. Ms Elliot also advised that their existing funding was needed for a proposed production of a musical in November, it was hoped that the production costs would be recouped through ticket sales. Any profits raised would go back to Land of Reivers for other projects, one of which was a possible children's theatre.
