Review procedure

The Local Review Body will decide on the procedure to be used to determine your review and may at any time during the review process require that further information or representations be made to enable them to determine the review. Further information may be required by one or a combination of procedures, such as: written submissions; the holding of one or more hearing sessions and/or inspecting the land which is the subject of the review case.

Please indicate what procedure (or combination of procedures) you think is most appropriate for the handling of your review. You may tick more than one box if you wish the review to be conducted by a combination of procedures.

- 1. Further written submissions
- 2. One or more hearing sessions
- 3. Site inspection
- 4. Assessment of review documents only, with no further procedure

If you have marked box 1 or 2, please explain here which of the matters (as set out in your statement below) you believe ought to be subject of that procedure, and why you consider further submissions or a hearing are necessary:

Statement

You must state, in full, why you are seeking a review on your application. Your statement must set out all matters you consider require to be taken into account in determining your review. Note: you may not have a further opportunity to add to your statement of review at a later date. It is therefore essential that you submit with your notice of review, all necessary information and evidence that you rely on and wish the Local Review Body to consider as part of your review.

If the Local Review Body issues a notice requesting further information from any other person or body, you will have a period of 14 days in which to comment on any additional matter which has been raised by that person or body.

State here the reasons for your notice of review and all matters you wish to raise. If necessary, this can be continued or provided in full in a separate document. You may also submit additional documentation with this form.

The application was made to provide a building for the 'bringing-on' pedigree store cattle - in particular in this case Dexters which are a threatened species. A business plan was professionally prepared and submitted with the application which gives clarity to the viability of the project. Furthermore, in anticipation of the consent being granted, further ground has been leased from an adjoining small-holder to provide additional grazing for the cattle. The staff facilities proposed are a requirement of the HSE and any business which provides employment has to be aware of staff welfare.

The building has been designed so as the cattle feed and watering uses gravity. Fundamentally, the water is to be drawing from an existing borehole within the site which has been established. In a previous request for planning consent, it was asked that a water storage building could be formed on the higher ground. This would have removed the need for the animal feed silo - or at least reduced it in height. However, the council refused both the water storage facility and the water pumping shed, and hence the need for such a high feed silo, with capacity in the event of pump-failure or power interruption.

The applicant is looking for ways of maximising food production or the conversion of feedstuff to protein from a very limited small-holding. The building is designed so as two levels of production area can be installed should the business be successful. The facility requested in the application 16/00114/FUL proposes to be a commercially viable business, whilst also assisting in the prolongification of the Dexter breed by creating demand. It should be noted that Dexters have been kept at Kirkburn since the applicant purchased the small-holding, so this is not a new introduction.

The applicant requests that the decision is reconsidered and is willing to have an open discussion to make the points clear. Specifically he feels that the Borders Council are being close-minded to the progressive use of the small-holding as a viable food producing unit.

Have you raised any matters which were not before the appointed officer at the time the determination on your application was made?

Yes No

If yes, you should explain in the box below, why you are raising new material, why it was not raised with the appointed officer before your application was determined and why you consider it should now be considered in your review.

No new material has been raised, although it is the second attempt to obtain the consent.

List of documents and evidence

Please provide a list of all supporting documents, materials and evidence which you wish to submit with your notice of review and intend to rely on in support of your review.
