Nomad Beat has received £9,000 in the past from Peebles Common Good over two years for the following

April 2010 = £4,000 – To purchase instruments – the instruments purchased have been amortised over their life. .
November 2011 = £5,000 To assist with increased running costs until they could be become self-sustaining

The figures shown in the accounts to 31 March 2014 showing funds from the Common Good of £367 and £458 represent an amortised proportion for the grants previously given.

Hope this helps clarify the position.

Regards

Kirsty

Many thanks for your update

As you may appreciate, with the enforced changes in the management of Nomad Beat this particular question was not easily answered, hence the wording of our application.

Many thanks for your clarification

The application was continued to a meeting to be held on 25 June.

Your application stated that you were not aware that Nomad Beat had previously received funds from the Peebles Common Good. Members asked clarification from the finance officer present at the meeting as to what funding Nomad Beat had had in the past.

She has now reported that Nomad Beat received £9,000 in the past from Peebles Common Good over two years for the following

April 2010 = £4,000 – To purchase instruments – the instruments purchased have been amortised over their life.
November 2011 = £5,000 To assist with increased running costs until they could be become self-sustaining

She has also advised that the figures shown in Nomad Beat accounts to 31 March 2014 showing funds from the Common Good of £367 and £458 represent an amortised proportion for the grants previously given.

Is there any update for our application to the Common Good Fund?
