Comments received as part of the consultation are as follows:

- "If it is used in the Scottish Borders it will be used by very few people. As stated before to make Scottish Borders council develop a strategy is a shocking waste of time and resource."
- "It would be great to see more opportunities to learn Gaelic!"
- "It's a crass attempt by the SNP to indoctrinate the nation - Gaelic was never spoken in the Scottish Borders"
- "An irrelevance."

- "Gaelic has no history in the Borders, we should support the use of Scots. This is an invasive move on behalf of the west coast."
- "Gaelic has not been a language of the Borders for a long time, it remained in the Highlands long after it had began dying out in the Borders. I feel it is the language of the Highlands."
- "I would be far more enthusiastic to hear that SBC are adopting a strong policy for the retention, and teaching, of scots. This is, I feel, the language we are most at risk of losing. Young people don't use scots words, I do and I'm 38."
- "It was be a travesty to lose a language still in use, though seemingly declining, while promoting a language long since lost from our area of Scotland. I am fiercely Scottish, but I relate closer to Northumberland than I do to the Highlands"
- "Please don't waste my council tax money on trying to teach my children a little used language. Use it to teach them something more useful, like a modern European language or teaching them that there is an exciting world out there beyond Scotland."
- "Why bother? Gaelic has not historically been spoken in southern Scotland, but Doric and Northumbrian have. There is no scheme to promote these languages and neither should there be. What is the motivation and justification for promoting Gaelic at public expense? Those who wish to learn Gaelic will do so without council intervention."
